605pm

Cody is literally

The result of a globalist economy

One of many homeless kids

Who steals from his friends

Because he doesn't see them as friend

Or family

And sees that when they gave something

And don't share

That that justifies their right to steal it

The law of self preservation in the natural world would seem to promote more violent battles from nature's own oppressors.

Parasites and collective colonies

Submissive workers would rather give up themselves than decide to create a new one. To them self preservation is most successful in the group. Still their will to belong and conform is over inflated, increasing deindividuation and derealization

And their will to power is under inflated, massively missing the ability to survive on their own, ants or other colonies rely on the group for all survival.

Not all animals are pack animals

Promote identity suicide

Instead of real suicide

It's more important to become someone new, than to think the end has to be more than just your ego.

7am

Globalism and anonymity

Individualism over inflated

Putting a price on basic needs is putting a price on life

- Basic needs are infinite natural resources when managed correctly

Anonymity and individualistic will to power and form of helpless conformity which created the individualism and the mental animosity in order to maintain it.

Class Race

Classism, racism

...The intellect arise from the proper and agreed upon rationalization of what may have been originally an irrational dissociative function and internally active reduction method of cognitive dissonance

- The origin of the super ego, lies in the internalization of anger (done d. Adams quote/research from peace activist study)
- And the difference in narrative styles for learned helplessness (negative and inward blaming sublimation/transfiguration) to learned positivity (3 P's: personal, pervasive, permanent)

740am

Soul: Catalyst and combustion Fermentation and potency. Spirit: final product, crystallized purity

When one gets to the point

Of being paranoid of their own self

“Would I really do that?”

“Don't trust anyone, not even yourself”

At that point, without trust, one operates in modern contracts, preserved and facilitated, mitigated in that preferential timeline in order to gain their own self preservation at the expense of grandeur scheme social implications.

- It's an active and living process, if one is conscious of it. Otherwise it is a background processing loop with inevitable catastrophe.

- To become entrenched, in a militant trench, with shovels and spades in hand. Holding out the bunker. General takes command. Proceed by process, what's been known and discovered. Do not veer from the truth, for fear of it being uncovered.
  - Entrenched in a trail. Bunkered deer does not bail. From set routine, even nature is mean. To program auto pilot species is to neglect survival of the conscious is to neglect natural and divine product
  - Accelerating on a path of incline, positive trajectory, constantly learning and questioning and the rise of authentic intelligence

Are people born good or bad

- Isn't that a philosophy question, in psychology?

That's my thesis actually

Plato's all towards the good

- Or what one knows as good

Interspecies War isn't innate or natural

It comes as a matter of desperation

The conditions can create desperation and struggle or flourishing and excelling life

We have created the conditions of desperation

Both the nature and nurture elements have been undermet and exploited.

To excel on a positive trajectory, he tilted his arm to face up and to his right, not extended but bent across his chest

We can sublimate negative emotions into constructive products. As such has been the latency resembling growth period of all collective literature and invention.

That is what all science is an attempt to do

And that is what is human nature

In attempts to know the goodness

6am

Know what you want to say

Know the effect you want

Become aware of the underlying motivations

And cater the project to that

Instead of, to be catered towards a faulty and completely whole educated dissection of the observation and question in claim.

- The question in claim and observation is to somehow correctly assuage/assemble a medium of conversation powerful and potent enough to be easily understood and referred to.

Another cc brochure

Who what where when why

We need you're support in building a cultural foundation where all life is respected.

From our local communities to across the world, the impact of our collective economic actions have left the world in a state of war and pollution.

Local flora and fauna species biodiversity has decreased.

We are currently in the 6th greatest extinction.

The problem:

- Human rights
- Globalism – slavery and disaster prep
- Culture war -dissociation from history, competing groups, devaluation and deindividuation. The phenomenon of anonymity (a new social phenomenon from globalism, communities not reliant on each other become/revert to lower animalistic drives)

The solution:

- Education on natural, milkshake, conditioned man from which springs the universal archetypes.
- Human rights realized by: multiple watch dogs, communication technology for every citizen... or simply, global network of villages
- Open source and transparent government
- Self sufficient university villages capable of rapid modular expansion and growth

Now I want to puff again and feel a little dizzy/disorderly/ddirty

Skywalker, is dream runner, running through a world, most are not in touch with. Looking above then, towards a common truth, a beautiful and just ideal.

I remember I was blessed the night or two before with a dream (amongst many, some very lucid philosophical discussions with Adam, unfortunately I missed the window to transcribe...(((it had something Todo with hunger, it's effect on conditioning and the potential for it's sublimation) where my daughter looked at me and exclaimed "daddy!" her simple recognition was more than enough.

Will she forget?

Will I?

"I think you're A plant. To get closer to me, and my answers. One of several unbelievable coincidences"

"No," I responded, "I'm an agent of change. Agents of change push the flow of life they don't stall it. Chaotic scramblers to an increasingly robotic system. As we accelerate towards technological singularity, both sides advancing in equal amounts. Authentic and artificial intelligences, humane cocreativity and parasitic domination.

The coronavirus is the king specimen, the Pinnacle product. Capable of turning man against himself. As a rogue cell attacking the very system that gave it life and a fogged mirror 1D like predator-prey, attack or mate 0/1 oriented psychological process.

What I really wanted to say to him. The man that carries around so much answer at other people judging him. For being such a waste of a white boy.

I want to ask him, well then what are you doing? Adult things, being homeless, in an adult pessimism, contained and predictable – a model of passive conformity with a deadly byproduct and shall you drink in seriousness?

- But what it really reveals, is that he is very paranoid and hiding from something. Spooked by multiple white Vans. Left the creek spot after a lady who always passes let's her dog get away from her. Which I sarcastically point out as unlikely and an obvious ruse. We both joke about cia potentials after he made a reference to me being a plant.

What the Mike interaction later brought to mind is. He is extremely paranoid on a daily basis and for what reason, who knows. But the conscience, the self preservation paranoia, his little voice, had kept him observable suspicious in what I initially thought was a sarcastic but potentially totally convinced reality/complex of deep seated distrust and likely trauma. Two years he served in prison. For what, I never asked. Someone's out of superficial courtesy or dumb blind faith in something beyond limited anthropomorphized cognition and judgments
